Did your legislators make the grade?

Look inside to see how your U.S. representative and senators scored so far in the 115th Congress on animal issues ranging from domestic violence against pets to allowing controversial hunting methods on public lands. Then let them know that you're watching and you appreciate their support for animals, or if they haven't been standing up for animals, that you'd like to see them do more. Also, share the Humane Scorecard with family, friends, fellow advocates and local media outlets.

How HSLF calculated scores

Many animal protection issues never receive a recorded vote in Congress. Some are enacted by voice vote, and some languish. To accurately measure legislators' support, we count not just recorded votes but other meaningful ways they can help issues advance, such as cosponsoring key bills and cosigning letters seeking increased enforcement of animal welfare laws. There are dozens of animal protection bills introduced each year; in order to give a balanced snapshot across a broad range of concerns, we only count cosponsorship of a few priority bills that have a critical mass of support and a reasonable chance of enactment. Scores are given as percentages of the number of items counted. Prime sponsors of legislation and those who led on a letter to an agency also receive extra credit equal to one vote or cosponsorship and a ✓ in the Leaders column. Those who led on multiple legislative and/or regulatory efforts or led on a top priority bill receive double extra credit equal to two votes or cosponsorships and a ★ in the Leaders column. If a legislator already has a score of 100 before counting the extra credit for Leaders, that score appears in bold with a plus sign.

HSLF acknowledges the limitations of judging legislators based on a few votes, cosponsorships, joint letters and leadership on animal issues. In some cases, legislators must miss votes for unavoidable reasons, such as a death in the family, serious illness, birth of a child or emergency in their district. Please also consider such unrecorded matters as performance on committees, positions of leadership in the House or Senate, constituent service and cosponsorship of other animal protection bills not included in the scorecard.

The Humane Society Legislative Fund (HSLF) is a social welfare organization incorporated under section 501(c) (4) of the Internal Revenue Code and formed in 2004 as a separate lobbying affiliate of The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS). HSLF works to pass animal protection laws at the state and federal levels, to educate the public about animal protection issues, and to support humane candidates for office. ## SENATE SCORED ITEMS

Pets and domestic violence

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Pet and Women Safety (PAWS) Act (S. 322), which would expand current federal domestic violence protections to include pets and authorize grant money to help domestic violence shelters accommodate pets or arrange for pet shelter. Currently, only 3 percent of these shelters allow pets, and many people delay their decision to leave a violent situation out of fear for their pets' safety (a legitimate concern considering that up to 84 percent of women entering shelters reported that their partners abused or killed the family pet). While 32 states have adopted similar legislation, the PAWS Act would ensure protection across the country.

Animal cruelty

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Preventing Animal Cruelty and Torture (PACT) Act (S. 654) to strengthen the 2010 federal "crush video" law, which banned the creation, sale and distribution of obscene videos that show live animals being intentionally crushed, burned, drowned, suffocated, impaled or subjected to other heinous abuse. The PACT Act would prohibit those same extreme acts of animal cruelty when they occur in interstate or foreign commerce, regardless of whether a video is produced. All 50 states have felony penalties for malicious cruelty to animals; this legislation would complement state anti-cruelty laws and provide an additional enforcement tool when extreme animal cruelty occurs on federal property or in interstate commerce (e.g., in the puppy mill trade or wildlife trafficking).

Horse slaughter

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Safeguard American Food Exports (SAFE) Act (S. 1706) to protect horses and consumers by prohibiting the transport and export of U.S. horses to slaughter for human consumption. American horses are not raised for food and are routinely given drugs that can be toxic to people if ingested. Horse slaughter is cruel, and the U.S. public overwhelmingly opposes it. Horses are shipped for long distances and are often seriously injured or killed in transit. At the slaughter plant, the methods used to kill horses rarely result in quick, painless deaths. This predatory industry doesn't "euthanize" old, sick horses; young and healthy horses are purchased, often by buyers misrepresenting their intentions, and killed for the overseas horsemeat market.

SPONSORS: Sens. Robert Menendez, D-N.J.; Lindsey Graham, R-S.C.; Sheldon Whitehouse, D-R.I.; Susan Collins, R-Maine

Shark finning

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Shark Fin Trade Elimination Act (S. 793) to protect sharks from cruelty and preserve our oceans' fragile ecosystems. S. 793 would strengthen federal laws against shark finning, in which fishermen slice off sharks' fins and toss the mutilated animals back into the ocean to die. This bill would prohibit the trade in shark fins, expanding on the Shark Finning Prohibition Act of 2000 and the Shark Conservation Act of 2010 (laws that banned shark finning and the transportation of any such fins on U.S.-flagged vessels).

Scott Pruitt confirmation – EPA

A ✓ indicates a vote against confirmation of Scott Pruitt as administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency. Pruitt is an outspoken opponent of environmental regulation and actions to address climate change, which threatens animals with habitat loss and more frequent and severe natural disasters. In addition, while serving as Oklahoma attorney general, Pruitt abused his power and waged an extended smear campaign against The HSUS, making demonstrably false claims in an attempt to pave the way for a state constitutional amendment that would give big agriculture free rein in the state, which Oklahoma voters rejected by more than 20 points. While we oppose his actions on environmental protection, the agency under his leadership approved a wildlife contraceptive vaccine and is helping to implement animal testing reforms.

SENATE SCORED ITEMS

Extreme hunting on Alaska National Wildlife Refuges

A ✓ indicates a vote against H.J. Res. 69, a Congressional Review Act (CRA) resolution to revoke a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service rule that prohibits specific egregiously cruel and unsporting hunting methods on more than 76 million acres of National Wildlife Refuges (NWR) in Alaska. The methods include killing wolf pups and their mothers at their dens and scouting grizzly bears from planes to shoot them. The resolution also prevents the administration from ever issuing a rule on the same topic, precluding federal wildlife managers from regulating these activities in any way. U.S. taxpayers, Alaska voters and professional federal wildlife managers oppose these extreme methods, which are banned virtually everywhere else in the country.

SPONSORS (ANTI-ANIMAL RESOLUTION):

Sen. Dan Sullivan, R-Alaska (S.J. Res. 18, the Senate companion measure);
Rep. Don Young, R-Alaska

Funding letter

A ✓ indicates that a member was one of 38 senators who cosigned a group letter or submitted a parallel individual request in June to the agriculture appropriations subcommittee. The letters asked the subcommittee to include language directing the U.S. Department of Agriculture to restore online access to inspection reports and other documents related to the Animal Welfare Act and Horse Protection Act. The letters also sought funding for enforcement of those key laws, and for the Humane Methods of Slaughter Act and federal animal fighting laws, as well as for programs to address the needs of animals in disasters and to encourage veterinarians, through student loan repayment assistance, to locate in underserved areas. (Subcommittee and committee leaders don't sign letters to themselves but received credit because they were responsive to these requests.)

SPONSORS: Sens. Ron Wyden, D-Ore.; John Kennedy, R-La.

Leaders

A ✓ indicates that the senator earned extra credit for leading as a prime sponsor of pro-animal legislation (including items not scored on this chart) or a letter to an agency. A ★ indicates that the senator earned double extra credit for leading on multiple legislative and/or regulatory efforts or leading on a top priority bill.

HOUSE SCORED ITEMS

Horse soring

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Prevent All Soring Tactics (PAST) Act (H.R. 1847) to crack down on the cruel practice of “soring,” in which unscrupulous trainers deliberately inflict pain on the hooves and legs of Tennessee walking horses and related breeds to force them to perform an unnaturally high-stepping gait and gain unfair competitive advantage at horse shows. Congress first tried to rein in this abuse by enacting the Horse Protection Act almost 50 years ago, but rampant soring continues, as shown in a 2010 audit by the U.S. Department of Agriculture inspector general and by HSUS undercover investigations of top trainers and owners in 2012 and 2015. The PAST Act would end the failed system of industry self-policing, ban the use of devices associated with soring, strengthen penalties and make illegal the actual soring of a horse—all without any additional taxpayer burden.

Pets and domestic violence

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Pet and Women Safety (PAWS) Act (H.R. 909), which would expand current federal domestic violence protections to include pets and authorize grant money to help domestic violence shelters accommodate pets or arrange for pet shelter. Currently, only 3 percent of these shelters allow pets, and many people delay their decision to leave a violent situation out of fear for their pets’ safety (a legitimate concern considering that up to 84 percent of women entering shelters reported that their partners abused or killed the family pet). While 32 states have adopted similar legislation, the PAWS Act would ensure protection across the country.

Animal cruelty

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Preventing Animal Cruelty and Torture (PACT) Act (H.R. 1494) to strengthen the 2010 federal “crush video” law, which banned the creation, sale and distribution of obscene videos that show live animals being intentionally crushed, burned, drowned, suffocated, impaled or subjected to other heinous abuse. The PACT Act would prohibit those same extreme acts of animal cruelty when they occur in interstate or foreign commerce, regardless of whether a video is produced. All 50 states have felony penalties for malicious cruelty to animals; this legislation would complement state anti-cruelty laws and provide an additional enforcement tool when extreme animal cruelty occurs on federal property or in interstate commerce (e.g., in the puppy mill trade or wildlife trafficking).

SPONSORS: Reps. Lamar Smith, R-Texas; Ted Deutch, D-Fla.

Horse slaughter

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Safeguard American Food Exports (SAFE) Act (H.R. 113) to protect horses and consumers by prohibiting the transport and export of U.S. horses to slaughter for human consumption. American horses are not raised for food and are routinely given drugs that can be toxic to people if ingested. Horse slaughter is cruel, and the U.S. public overwhelmingly opposes it. Horses are shipped for long distances and are often seriously injured or killed in transit. At the slaughter plant, the methods used to kill horses rarely result in quick, painless deaths. This predatory industry doesn’t “euthanize” old, sick horses; young and healthy horses are purchased, often by buyers misrepresenting their intentions, and killed for the overseas horsemeat market. (Members also received credit if they voted in favor of a related “defund” amendment offered by Reps. Lucille Roybal-Allard, D-Calif., and Charlie Dent, R-Pa., which was unfortunately defeated by a vote of 25-27 during House Appropriations Committee consideration of the FY18 agriculture appropriations bill, H.R. 3268. But cosponsors of the SAFE Act who voted against the defund amendment did not receive credit for cosponsorship.)

SPONSORS: Reps. Vern Buchanan, R-Fla.; Jan Schakowsky, D-Ill.; Ed Royce, R-Calif.; Michelle Lujan Grisham, D-N.M.

Shark finning

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Shark Fin Sales Elimination Act (H.R. 1456) to protect sharks from cruelty and preserve our oceans’ fragile ecosystems. H.R. 1456 would strengthen federal laws against shark finning, in which fishermen slice off sharks’ fins and toss the mutilated animals back into the ocean to die. This bill would prohibit the trade in shark fins, expanding on the Shark Finning Prohibition Act of 2000 and the Shark Conservation Act of 2010 (laws that banned shark finning and the transportation of any such fins on U.S.-flagged vessels).

SPONSORS: Reps. Ed Royce, R-Calif.; Gregorio Kilili Camacho Sablan, D-Northern Mariana Islands

Dog and cat meat

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Dog and Cat Meat Trade Prohibition Act (H.R. 1406) to prohibit the domestic slaughter, trade and import of dogs and cats for human consumption, and to provide penalties for individuals involved in the dog or cat meat trade. H.R. 1406 would prevent the dog and cat meat trade from taking hold in the U.S., serve as an important symbol of unity with countries and regions that have banned the trade in dog and cat meat (including Thailand, Hong Kong, the Philippines and Taiwan), and give the U.S. greater standing to press other nations to follow suit.

SPONSORS: Reps. Alcee Hastings, D-Fla.; Vern Buchanan, R-Fla.; Dave Trott, R-Mich.; Brendan Boyle, D-Pa.

Animal testing for cosmetics

A ✓ indicates cosponsorship of the Humane Cosmetics Act (H.R. 2790) to phase out the testing of cosmetics on live animals and the sale of animal-tested cosmetics in the U.S. These tests performed on rabbits, guinea pigs, rats and mice are intensely cruel and unreliable predictors of effects on humans. Cosmetics companies can choose from thousands of ingredients already known to be safe for humans. For new ingredients, animal tests are simply unnecessary since many alternative methods—which are faster and less expensive to perform—are available to ensure products are safe for human use. More than 1.8 billion consumers live in countries that have already adopted similar restrictions, and more than 230 personal care product companies support this legislation.

Gutting regulations – Midnight Rules

A ✓ indicates a vote against the Midnight Rules Relief Act (H.R. 21), which would expedite the process already provided under the Congressional Review Act (CRA) for dismantling regulations, by allowing en bloc disapproval of multiple regulations finalized during the last year of a president's term. Most animal protection rules adopted during the Obama administration, including in the administration's final year, were many years in the making, elicited overwhelming numbers of favorable public comments, and enjoyed strong bipartisan congressional support. Far from being the result of a rushed process, rules issued during a president's last year in office typically took longer in the rulemaking process and received more extensive vetting, according to analysis of rules going back to 1999.

SPONSOR (ANTI-ANIMAL BILL):
Rep. Darrell Issa, R-Calif.

Gutting regulations – REINS

A ✓ indicates a vote against the Regulations from the Executive in Need of Scrutiny (REINS) Act (H.R. 26), another bill that would take a sledgehammer approach to regulations and negate well-considered and broadly supported rules, including commonsense measures to implement and enforce animal protection laws. H.R. 26 would require that both houses of Congress approve a major rule, with no alteration, within a 70-day window. If both chambers are unable to swiftly approve a major rule, it would not take effect and reconsideration during that Congress would be precluded. By doing nothing, Congress would prevent existing laws from being implemented or more effectively enforced.

SPONSOR (ANTI-ANIMAL BILL):
Rep. Doug Collins, R-Ga.

Extreme hunting on Alaska National Wildlife Refuges

A ✓ indicates a vote against H.J. Res. 69, a CRA resolution to revoke a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service rule that prohibits specific egregiously cruel and unsporting hunting methods on more than 76 million acres of National Wildlife Refuges (NWR) in Alaska. The methods include killing wolf pups and their mothers at their dens and scouting grizzly bears from planes to shoot them. The resolution also prevents the administration from ever issuing a rule on the same topic, precluding federal wildlife managers from regulating these activities in any way. U.S. taxpayers, Alaska voters and professional federal wildlife managers oppose these extreme methods, which are banned virtually everywhere else in the country.

SPONSOR (ANTI-ANIMAL RESOLUTION):
Rep. Don Young, R-Alaska

Extreme hunting on Alaska National Park Service land

A ✓ indicates a vote against an amendment to H.R. 3354 (an omnibus appropriations bill) to block a National Park Service (NPS) rule that prohibits scientifically unjustified methods of trophy hunting on over 20 million acres of NPS lands in Alaska, including killing hibernating black bear mothers and cubs and shooting caribou while they are swimming and defenseless. The NPS rule was adopted after years of public engagement and with the support of many Alaskans. National parks and preserves are the crown jewels of the state's ecotourism industry, and federal tax dollars maintain these lands, which are visited by millions of Americans eager to see iconic wildlife. Government records show that wildlife watchers outnumber hunters by nearly five to one in Alaska, and they spend five times more than hunters for recreational opportunities.

(Note: Some Florida representatives were absent during this vote because they were helping to prepare their districts before Hurricane Irma made landfall.)

SPONSOR (ANTI-ANIMAL AMENDMENT):
Rep. Don Young, R-Alaska

Funding letter

A ✓ indicates that a member was one of 184 representatives who cosigned a group letter or submitted a parallel individual request in April to the agriculture appropriations subcommittee. The letters asked the subcommittee to include language directing the USDA to restore online access to inspection reports and other documents related to the Animal Welfare Act and Horse Protection Act. The letters also sought funding for enforcement of those key laws, and for the Humane Methods of Slaughter Act and federal animal fighting laws, as well as for programs to address the needs of animals in disasters and to encourage veterinarians, through student loan repayment assistance, to locate in underserved areas. (Subcommittee and committee leaders don't sign letters to themselves but received credit because they were responsive to these requests.)

Key to House Chart

- SP Prime Sponsor (pro-animal legislation)
- ✓ Took pro-animal position through cosponsoring a bill, voting, signing a letter, or leading on pro-animal issue(s)
- ★ Led on multiple legislative and/or regulatory efforts or led on a top priority bill
- X Took anti-animal position on a vote
- NV Did not vote due to absence or abstention
- + Pro-animal position on 12 scored items plus extra credit for leading on animal protection issue(s)
- As a rule, delegates from U.S. Territories and the District of Columbia cannot vote on bills or amendments on the House floor, so their scores are calculated based on non-vote items
- Top leaders of each party typically do not cosponsor bills and the Speaker of the House does not vote, so they have no numerical score
- ▲ Member of the Congressional Animal Protection Caucus (does not affect numerical score)

Note: In some cases, legislators must miss votes for unavoidable personal reasons, such as a death in the family, serious illness, birth of a child or emergency in their district.
